What We Have Got El Centro?

Now that the first semester has passed you've probably figured out by now that it's not what you know but who you know. I'm talking about El Centro Student Services.

If you still feel lost and you don't know exactly where to turn for specific resources, chances are you have not found El Centro.

We can make the transition to college much easier. We can provide you with a Peer Resource Leader, let you know how to get involved at CSU, or just point you in the right direction.

Spring semester is usually a very hectic semester for all our students; many students take over 15 credit hours, work one or two jobs and do not have time to access the available resources this campus has to offer.

For example: El Centro is offering Workshops for those:

- In need of financial aid? El Centro has a Financial Workshop on February 13 from 12:00-1:00 PM in Room 210 of the Lory Student Center
- Interested in attending Graduate School? March 2 - 12:00-1:00 PM Graduate Workshop held in Room 210 of the Lory Student Center
- Already in Grad School, working on your Thesis? February 23 - 12:00-1:00 PM in Room 210 of the Lory Student Center, Mike Gould, Ph.D. will be giving you pointers on how to save 100 hours in research, utilizing your computer software.

Scholarships? We have information of several scholarships that are available, come in and pick up an application or the information of where to apply. El Centro currently has applications for: Elizabeth Woodworth Scholarship, Bavoso Scholarship, and El Centro Scholarship, hurry the deadline (March 3rd) is fast approaching!

El Centro also works with Student Organizations giving you opportunities to volunteer in exciting campus events, so be sure to come to El Centro Office and check out our Bulletin Board to learn about all these informative and exciting events from our office!

All the El Centro Staff is excited to meet you and assist you in providing the resources you need to make your stay at CSU a successful one.

Summer School

Summer Session 2006

Focused . . . Flexible . . . Friendly!

You'll enjoy summer school at Colorado State University. The campus atmosphere is friendly, laid-back and hassle-free. It is a good time to focus on one or two classes. There are over 500 courses offered in 4- and 8- week terms (with several mini-courses available), giving you the flexibility to work and make other summer plans. You can complete a pre-requisite, knock off a required course, or improve your GPA.

The Summer 2006 Class Schedule is available at these locations: Lory Student Center; Center for Advising and Student Achievement; Registrar's Office; and Admissions Office. Those who are unable to pick up the publication on campus can call 491-7985 to have the schedule mailed to their home address. Students can also visit the summer session website for the listing of all courses, registration information, and information about the variety of programs and activities that takes place at Colorado State University in the summer.

"Ahhh a man with a sharp wit. Someone ought to take it away from him before he cuts himself."
-Peter de Silva

"Love is the image of God, and not a lifeless image, but the living essence of the divine nature which beams full of goodness."
-Andy McIntyre

If you think education is expensive, try ignorance.

Your Essence

The saying, "Wisdom comes with age," is very true; the older we get the wiser we get. It is also true that the older we get the less imaginative we become. It seems as though the more that we learn the more we are let down. When I say "let down" I mean let down about beliefs we had about the world when we were kids. Sometimes the more knowledge we acquire increases our level of sadness or disappointment with the world we have come to know.

I am not saying that knowledge is a burden or that is bad; on the contrary, knowledge is what keeps the world going, without it we would be lost. I am trying to highlight the responsibilities that come with it.

As we become educated about the world there will be a lot of things that we will not like to see or hear. There will also be things that will subconsciously change who you are. A lot of times this change is not for the better and this is when you must be on guard and protect your essence.

Our essence is what makes us who we are so therefore we must protect it by not conforming to the knowledge we acquire. Instead we must be able to change the things that makes us uneasy; things such as poverty, murder, war, and inequality. Knowledge is endless and we must seek it.

Singles Awareness Day February 14th

A.K.A Valentines day

Valentine's day is not welcomed by all. In fact, many people are actually anti-Valentine's day. Here are some pictures to prove it.
